

Local Jaycees Name Students To Seminar

EVANSVILLE JAYCEES have selected Paul Heller, Van Cline, Michael Issue and David Merrill to participate in the bi-monthly meetings of the Evansville Division of the Berg Foundation Science Seminar, according to Woodrow Pemberton, head of the Science Department.

These four, along with twelve others from Bosse and fifty-eight from the other high schools, took the Science Aptitude

Examination, sponsored by the Evansville Jaycees, on Feb. 9. All of the students taking the test had to be sophomores, thus allowing them to attend the Science Seminar for two years. The ones who were selected from the past two years' tests and who have attended the meetings are seniors, Sidney Kushner, Charles Robertson and Roy Wyttenbach. These three have attended for the past years. The juniors who will attend for the coming year are Kent Brown, Bill Laurens, Bob Hietel, Bob Crank, John Wilson and Mike Wagner.

Berg Foundation, originator of the Science Seminar, is established to improve the knowledge in advanced science. The participants are top students and have to be recommended by high school science teachers to be able to take the test. A total of fifteen from each high school can compete in the exam, but only fifteen from this number are chosen to participate. One student must be selected from each school and the rest are chosen for the high scores. The participants become acquainted with scientists from the surrounding area, who guide them in the projects they make in the meetings. They also learn to do research in library and interpretation of their experimental data.

Paul, advisee of Ted Hite, has also achieved the first award in the 1960 Science Fair, conducted at Evansville College, and is at present making an amateur radar set. Mike, advisee of Mrs. Olevia Wenzel, received first honor rating in the biology division of the Science Fair and at the end of his eighth grade, attended chemistry classes conducted at Murray State University.

Shifting Sands by Sandy Brock

"THIS TRAFFIC BIT? Aw, it doesn't affect me. That kind of thing only happens to others!" Sound familiar?

Recently, in our safety assembly, we were given several tips on safe driving and the prevention of accidents. Yet how many of us really took the warning seriously? We usually view these assemblies as a chance to vary our daily routine and to sit back and relax.

DURING THE HALF-HOUR interval, we saw many trophies on display which represent our school's accomplishments in the field of safety, and still, our school has more students involved in accidents and moving violations than any other high school in the city. During the month of January alone, our students were involved in three accidents and six moving violations. These figures top the next highest school by one accident and two moving violations. The above calculations are not fiction. They are the results of police reports which are distributed to the various city schools by the Supervisor of Safety.

In the Evansville Courier, an entire article was devoted to a proposal from the Evansville Police Department to crack down on the accident toll by issuing student traffic violation tickets. Beginning Mar. 15, tickets will be given to grade and high school-age students violating pedestrian and bicycle laws. Warning tickets will be offered first and will require the signature of parents before being brought or mailed to the Police Department's School Traffic Safety Education Division within seventy-two hours of their issuance. Parents failing to do this will be contacted. The second ticket received by the same person will cost $2. This will replace the oral warning officers have been giving the students.

The effectiveness of the entire program will depend on the cooperation of the parents and the willingness of the students to back the plan. We have an excellent driving training program, but of what value is it if the legal driving age is raised to eighteen because of our carelessness?

Highlights After Deadline

CONTRARY TO PREVIOUS announcements, Senior Talent Day will be presented Thursday, March 5.

SCIENCE FAIR APPLICATIONS must be submitted by Monday, March 5.

STUDENTS WISHING TO purchase tickets for the Regional tourney should do so in the athletic office. Tickets for both sessions are priced at $2.

TICKETS FOR THE Semi-state tournament will go on sale in the athletic office Monday, regardless of the regional winner. Tickets will be sold on a first come—first serve basis.

National Merit, NEDT Testing Plans Complete

NATIONAL MERIT Scholarship tests for juniors and the NEDT tests for freshmen and sophomores will be Tuesday, March 7, in the study hall and cafeteria, respectively, according to Miss Helen Stoutenborough, Dean of Girls, and William Couch, Counselor.

National Merit Qualifying tests are given to find students who demonstrate ability to benefit from a college education. Merit Scholarships are sponsored by business and industrial firms, foundations, professional groups and individuals. This year's scholarships are given by 128 organizations.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS are eligible to take the test and Miss Stoutenborough reports that 165 juniors have signed up. From students taking the test, 10,000 semi-finalists across the country are chosen. The semi-finalists will take another test in December and 1,000 finalists will be selected. National Merit finalists this year are Linda Deer, John Stevens and Roy Wyttenbach. In previous years Bosse had two winners, Audrey Higgins, now attending Western College for Women, and Richard Price, who is attending Yale.

Tests are divided into five divisions—English usage, mathematics usage, social studies reading, natural science reading and word usage. Scores are taken individually on each test and a composite score is compiled.

NATIONAL MERIT tests will be given in the study hall at 8:30 A.M. The results will be returned to the school in May. They are given as soon as possible so that students may see their weaknesses and sign up for courses to help them either in summer school or the fall semester.

Freshmen and sophomores will participate in the NEDT tests on the same day as National Merit tests are given. These tests will be given in the cafeteria from 1:30 P.M. to 5 P.M. Last year almost 218,000 students in 1,200 schools took the tests. This year 168 freshmen and 128 sophomores will take the test.

Prepared and administered by Science Research Associates of Chicago, the examination provides scores in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences and word usage. Each participating student may plot his scores on a Student Profile Leaflet, to learn how he compares with other students at his grade level in the country.

This evaluation of strengths and weaknesses in education helps students plan their high school and college courses and make career decisions. The tests also help teachers to spot talented students, so that they may receive guidance early in their education.

Freshman Parents To Hear Program By Administration

ENCOURAGING PARENTS to take an active interest in their children's education, the annual Freshman Parents' Night is scheduled for Thursday, March 16, in the auditorium, according to Alfred Murray, class sponsor.

Principal David Dudley, Assistant Principal Paul Jennings, Dean of Girls Miss Helen Stoutenborough and the department heads will form a panel to explain the remaining three year curriculum. Mr. Jennings will be in charge of interpreting the four-year course study available at all Evansville high schools.

Parents will be given an opportunity to practice filling in a program, just as their child would do in signing up for coming classes. Following the panel discussion there will be ample time set aside for a question and answer period.

Sponsors Select June Speakers

Name Hufnagel, Miller, Edmonson, Kushner

MARY ELAINE MILLER, Steve Edmonson, Joanne Hufnagel and Sidney Kushner will speak at the Commencement Ceremonies that highlight the week long festivities of Senior Week.

Speakers were chosen on the basis of their scholastic achievement and extra-curricular activities. The ability to speak in front of a large group also enters into the selection. The four chosen are among the highest scholastically in the class of '61.

JOANNE, SENIOR ADVISEE of Mrs. Doris Griffin, is presently practicing for her act in the Senior Talent Day, "Accent on Youth". As a freshman she sang in the chorus during the production of "The Wizard of Oz." Joanne also was a contestant in the City Algebra contest. During her sophomore year she became a Theban and acted in the productions of "You Can't Take It With You" and "The Diary of Anne Frank." The high point of her junior year was being chosen for National Honor Society. Joanne plans to attend Evansville University and is majoring in mathematics and chemistry.

Steve, senior advisee of Mrs. Theresa Durre, was treasurer of his Junior Class. Steve is in Student Council and is chairman of several committees. He is on the baseball team and plays shortstop, second base and third base. He plans to attend Purdue University and intends to go into engineering.

Mary Elaine, senior advisee of Mrs. Helen Emerson, is currently serving as secretary of the National Honor Society. She has served in Student Council for four years. Last year she was secretary of that organization. Recently Mary Elaine was awarded the Quota Club award. She was elected to the court of both the Junior and Senior Proms.

Sidney, senior advisee of Richard Hyatt, has recently won an honorable mention award in the Westinghouse Talent Search and in doing so is one of the top ten per cent of the students who took the test. He has won various science contests before, but this was the most important.

Speaker's Bureau To Inform Patrons Concerning Schools

TO DEVELOP a clear comprehension of the program of the Evansville public schools and to promote a desirable school-community relationship, the Evansville Teachers' Association and the Evansville School Corporation have established a speaker's bureau.

Each speaker has his own topic. Two Bosse teachers are members of the bureau. They are Alfred Murray, head of the social studies department, who speaks on "Changes in Money to Meet Changing Needs," and J. Maxwell Davis, biology instructor, who speaks on "Science in America and 'Sputnik'."

How Does It Affect You?

The Coming Week

Monday, March 6—E-C-A Schedule—Regional Victory Assembly.

Tuesday, March 7—Regular schedule, National Merit Scholarship Test, NEDT Test.

Wednesday, March 8—E-C-A schedule, Senior Talent Day dinner assembly for freshmen and sophomores. School dismissed at 3 p.m.

Thursday, March 9—E-C-A schedule, Senior Talent Day dinner for juniors and seniors. Senior Talent Day 8 p.m.

Friday, March 10—Regular Schedule.

Saturday, March 11—Semi-State Tournaments.

Students Take Honors In State Music Meet

SEVERAL STUDENTS WON a first division rating at the annual all-state solo and ensemble contest in Indianapolis Saturday, Feb. 18, according to Lawrence Johnston, band director.

Winning a first division rating in the solo competition were Sherry Elzer, Lynn Northcut, Diane Meckert, Carole Letsinger and Janice Yeast, flutists. Eddie Letsinger in French horn and Lynn Peters on string bass also copied first division ratings with their solos.

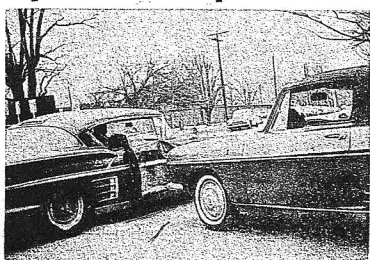

Several ensembles also rated first division award. Quartets receiving the award were a string quartet consisting of Deanna Barton, Pam Medlicott, Linda Hopper and Jackie Wilhite; a clarinet quartet composed of Judy Gray, Sandra Chaddock, Judy Mayfield and Shannon Lamb and a brass quartet consisting of Jim Alsop, Eddie Letsinger, Jim Kinney and Charles Madden.

Cindy Perkins, Carole Letsinger, Lynn Northcut, Diane Meckert, Lorna Hoyt and Sherry Elzer form two flute trios which each copied a first division rating. A brass quartet consisting of Jim Alsop, Eddie Letsinger, Gary Meyer, Bob Kerney, Jim Kinney and Bob Paul also won a first division rating at the contest.

Selected by Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Beggs as a representative from the sophomore speech classes, Nina gave a five minute talk on Brotherhood. It was entitled "With Malice Toward None; with Charity for All."

Editorial

Speed Keeps Pace While Death Watches...

SPEED is the byword of our generation—the dimension in which we are most at home. It may lead to a traffic ticket, another world or, all too often, to a tragic accident that in one fatal instant snuffs out another life.

There is something shocking and completely devastating about Death. But to us, exposed from birth to mass human annihilation on the battlefields and highways, the singing picture of Death never makes a very vivid impression, not until it strikes so unmercifully close to home. Then Death horrifies and stuns us, leaving with it a cold and cruel burn of anguish.

THE DEATH of that girl, the one who might be crushed today, tomorrow or the next day when two drivers make the same hasty mistake, need not happen. They are late and in a hurry; they do not have time to stop at that perennally dangerous corner... only now she will not be going anywhere anymore. There can be many reasons for an accident, but there can be no real excuses for one.

"Where were they going? What were they doing?" screamed the headlines in Sunday's paper recently. But somehow, to the parents of the boys involved, the details or the cause of that accident do not seem important now.

When you floor that accelerator tonight, think of the fatalities that become only impersonal statistics, of those who for one disastrous second lose the responsibility demanded behind the wheel and find Death or Injury there, waiting and watching. First-rate traffic safety must be everybody's business. Use some sense the next time you take the law and someone else's life in your own hands.

Stoutenborough Announces List Of ECA Club Officers

VARIOUS CLUBS elected their officers for this semester during ECA period, Feb. 16, according to Helen Stoutenborough, Dean of Girls.

Newly elected officers of the Printing Club, sponsored by Gerald Reffert, are Mike Eales, president; David Hebeisen, vice-president; Jim Bush, secretary and Lester Steinhilber, treasurer. The purpose of this club is to gain more printing experience.

PRESIDENT of the Bridge Club is Roy Wyttenbach. Other officers are Jim Marver, vice president and Van Cline, secretary-treasurer. The purpose of the club is to promote social growth through development of skill in bridge, according to Eleanor Castle, sponsor.

Larry Giesky heads the Track Club, according to Max Smith, sponsor. Other officers are Mary Fresson, vice president; Steve Hubel, secretary and Tony Fehrer, treasurer.

TO PROMOTE better fellowship among different races, religions and creeds is the purpose of the St. Y-Teens, according to sponsor Mary Anna Rose. Officers are Ricky Lang, president; Patty Hefflin, vice president; Kay Kuebler, secretary and Mariya Banks, treasurer.

James Hendricks is president of the Amateur Radio Club, according to sponsor Charles May. Other officers are Phillip Baily, vice president and Collette Roy, secretary-treasurer. The club learns about ham radios and practices code.

TO LEARN ABOUT Latin through various activities is the purpose of the Latin Club, according to Walden Crabtree, sponsor. Alan Hoover is the president. Fellow officers are vice president, Maria Kuensli and secretary, Linda Lampert.

Margaret Lukens sponsors the Chess Club which is headed by Deane Miller. Other officers are Lois Rosenblum, vice president and Charlotte Pfleger, secretary. The club offers instructions in knitting.

To learn of different types of transportation is the purpose of the Transportation Club, according to Robert Russell, sponsor. John Porter is the president. Other officers are Alfred Nation, vice president; Willis Barnes, secretary and Don Meese, program chairman.

Purdue Guides Students In Technical Training

TO PREPARE STUDENTS in some of the more technical lines of study is the chief aim of Purdue University, according to Ralph Mayes, Counselor.

Located at West Lafayette, Indiana, Purdue is a co-educational state university, named in honor of John Purdue, who contributed both land and money towards the founding of the University in 1869. Purdue was established primarily as a technical institution, offering instruction in engineering and agriculture. Today the university also operates undergraduate schools of Science, Education, Humanities, Home Economics, Industrial Management, Veterinary Science and Medicine and Pharmacy. The Graduate School gives advanced work leading to Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

In 1959 the University had an enrollment of almost 15,000 students, with 14,192 on the main campus in West Lafayette. The remainder took college and technical work at Purdue University Centers in four Indiana communities. Purdue faculty members total 1,400, thus keeping classes small. PURDUE is fully accredited by national, regional and professional

College Hosts Armed Forces Defense Talks

EVANSVILLE high school and college students may attend the National Security Seminar in the Evansville College auditorium Feb. 27 to March 10, announced D. W. Vaughn, general chairman.

This seminar is being conducted by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces and sponsored locally by the college and Chamber of Commerce. The seminar is for both military and key civilian personnel. Each high school is invited to send at least forty seniors.

Divided into twenty sessions, one each morning and afternoon for five days of each of the two weeks, the course will be conducted by a team of six officers from the Industrial College. The officers, all career men, are Col. Ernest F. Williams, Air Force, who is leader of the team; Col. William N. Boaz, Air Force; Capt. John A. Bogley, Navy; Col. John M. Christensen, Jr., Army; Capt. C. H. Hines, Farmington, Navy and Lt. Col. Clarence R. Davis, Jr., Army.

There are seven feeder schools of the Chamber of Commerce. General committee vice-presidents are Don Elliot and Col. Robert M. Leach. Ground work for the seminar was laid more than a year ago by Colonel Leach. He attended a similar seminar and became enthusiastic with the opportunity it afforded civilians to get a close look at the problems that confront the Armed Forces in carrying on their day-to-day program to keep America strong and at peace in the face of the Communist threat.

Through March 13, counselors and department heads will visit the various feeder schools to talk to the eighth grade students and their parents. Representatives from the Evansville Booster Club will also be present.

Novel Baffles Pupil With 'Indentures'

IN MRS. MERLE Padgett's freshman English class, the topic of discussion turned toward Pip's indentures in Charles Dickens' classic, "Great Expectations" during a first semester class.

Mrs. Padgett was trying to prepare her students for a test, and since the topic did concern Pip's indentures regarding his anonymous benefactor, the logical question for her to ask was, "From whom did Pip receive his indentures?" One student, obviously not paying close attention, answered earnestly, "Where in the book does it say that Pip had false teeth?"

ANTICIPATING THE effect of the scenery for Senior Talent Day, is Betty Jessop, set designer and chairman of the paint crew for the production.

Betty, who is an "old pro" at working on dramatic productions, also served as paint crew chairman for the Thespian production of "The Lark." She was a member of the paint crew last year for "Plain and Fancy."

Couch Estimates Enrollment Totals Of New Freshmen

FRESHMEN enrollment for the fall semester of 1961 will exceed this year's enrollment by nearly one hundred and fifteen students, according to William Couch, counselor.

One of the most exciting events was Mardi Gras. The celebration is on Shrove Tuesday, forty-one days before Easter, with the giving of private balls and parties. At these parties there is a "review gallery" where all the girls sit and wait for the boys to ask them to dance. Upon asking them to dance, the boys give the girls a personal trinket as a compact or small pin.

These gala events continue all season, until everything comes to a fever pitch at the day of Mardi Gras. All shops and schools are closed. Everyone in the whole city comes out into the streets dressed in a costume and equipped with a camera. Betty's whole family dressed as lunatics. They had, however, a "lot of trouble with people who would pull their tails and ears," Betty said.

HOBBIES SEEM to be a hobby with Betty, as she has so many. She likes very much to sketch and draw at home; and also, she sews a lot. Although, "quite an amateur," she enjoys photography. Another one of her "just" hobbies is redecorating her bedroom. "Right now, I'm doing it in Early American," says Betty. "I do just fine until I run into a financial snag," she goes on to say.

Boys Act As Pages In General Assembly

SERVING AS Senate Pages in the 92nd Session of the General Assembly in Indianapolis, on Feb. 15 and 17, were four students, Alfred Niedermaier, Mike DePriest, Bill Fligelsch and Bill Wesselman.

Alfred, junior advisee of John Roberts, served on Feb. 15. He was sponsored by Senator Hugh S. Dillin from Petersburg, Indiana. Mike, freshman advisee of Dorothy Erskine; Bill, freshman advisee of Larry Johnson; and Bill, sophomore advisee of Merrill Stethen served on Feb. 17. These three boys were sponsored by Paul J. Bitts from Evansville.

Starting their full-day schedule, the boys first signed up and received their certificates indicating they were Senate Pages in the month of February, 1961. They then sorted out bills for senators, arranging them in order and putting one on each of the senator's desks. The bill remains with the senator for two days before it can be brought up to pass.

Taking time out for lunch about 12 P.M., they reconvened again at 1:30 P.M. taking on their afternoon responsibilities. At 5 P.M. they adjourned for dinner and reassembled again at 7 P.M. That evening they listened to the debating and the passing of bills, thus proving to be a very rewarding educational experience for them, the boys said.

Office Helpers Aid Counselors, Deans During Free Time

ADMINISTRATION OFFICES are aided by fifty-nine assistants this semester according to David Dudley, principal; Paul Jennings, Assistant Principal; Miss Helen Stoutenborough, Dean of Girls; Ralph Mayes, counselor; and William Couch, counselor.

Taking time to assist in Mr. Dudley's office second period is Judy Smith while third period finds Katherine Lee. During fourth and fifth period Betty Banko helps, and Nina Witherspoon and Vicki Jaquess work seventh.

In Mr. Jennings' office Jason Forney helps first period, Diane Engle second period and Judy Ann Smith and Ann Comstock third period. Fourth period finds Kay Alexander and Barbara Hartley working while Cynthia Bell takes over fifth. Deane Miller, Betty Williams and Pam Harmon help sixth period and Pam Medlicott and Sylvia Doosier during seventh.

ASSISTING IN Miss Stoutenborough's office first period is Peggy Parkhurst, Phyllis Lowery and Peggy Hopper while homecoming finds Nancy Hestel and Diane Strouse. Aiding Diane second period is Jill Gilmore, while third period Joyce Langston and Joan Postleweight work. During fourth period, Pamela Shela Powell help and fifth Linda Brannaman and Beverly Davis work. Ann Fritchard and Marilyn McOutchan work sixth, while Joanne Hufnagel and Beverly Gerbott aid seventh.

Helping in Mr. Mayes' office first period is Clarence Blair while second period finds Janet Huber and Marjorie Mims working. Pat Graves and Marshall Thomas lend a hand third period. Taking over fourth period are Sharon Leech and Jon Miller; fifth period has Karen Johnson helping. Jerry Hamley and Wanda Foster assist sixth while Jane Alderage and Phyllis Stewart take over seventh.

Working in Mr. Couch's office first period are Maria White and Donna Mackay while Barbara Jett helps second. Janice Yost, Judy Courter and Pat Rose assist third period. During fifth period Diane Mockert and Virginia Carter aid while Margaret Yaggi and Charlene Arner help sixth. To close out the day, Jean Emerson, Jo Ann Bremner and Mary Farmer work seventh.

Bulldogs Jolt Bears, Capture Sectionals

Hit Or Miss

by Steve Trotter

COACHES HERMAN KELLER, Arvel Kilpatrick and Alfred Duck, along with our hard fighting team deserve the highest praise for winning the Sectional title. The student body is also to be highly commended on their fine sportsmanship and spirit. May the same fine spirit prevail at the Regionals.

BENITE, the Bulldog mascot, enjoyed seeing the Central Bears get the stuffing stomped out of them and Charlie Brown, another Bulldog booster, is said to be anxious to storm the Castle Knights. He is also practicing his marksmanship.

EAST CHICAGO WASHINGTON'S defending state champs take on Gary Roosevelt in a northern regional. Muncie Central, four time state champs, will play Cambridge City.

MIGHTY OHIO STATE, after defeating Wisconsin's Badgers, are now assured of at least a tie for the Big Ten Crown. Backed by a 22-0 record they will meet Michigan State tomorrow night.

IN A FIGHTING world, Ingemar Johansson is really training for his third meet with Floyd Patterson which is scheduled for March 19 in Miami. In their first fight Ingo knocked Floyd for the crown, but in their second match, Floyd turned the tables to lay Ingo out cold early in the fight.

A JOB WELL DONE should also be handed to the variety cheerleaders who have done such a fine job cheering the Bulldogs on to victory.

Rivalry Nears Rowdy Side In Sectional

SECTIONAL rivalry bordered on the rowdy side at the recent sectional match that found the Booneville Panthers teamed against the Castle Hill Knights at Booneville last Saturday night.

It seems that the fans employed bean shooters to help spur their team to victory. On several occasions the flustered referees had to call time to ask the fans to quit shooting the players with their bean shooters.

Last year the Castle Knights brought with them to the tournament a "super macho" mascot of a knight.

Cutting down the sectional nets is big Bulldog center forward Ed Brown. Center forward, in the middle picture Chuck Dannheiser, trail's Ken Brindy looks on.

'Dogs Down Reitz In 66-59 Thriller For First Victory

RIDING A FULL court press from six points behind, the Bulldogs squeaked by the spirited Reitz Panthers 66-59 in the opening game of the tournament.

Throughout the first three quarters the Bears were able to shake off the determined Panthers. It was not until the fourth quarter that the dazzling Dogs left the Panthers by the way-side.

Led by big Larry Denton with 21 counters, and by bouncing Chuck Dannheiser and spunky Gary Grieger with 12 points apiece, the Bulldogs racked up their thirteenth victory against five defeats.

Following right behind Denton, Grieger and Dannheiser, were sophomore marvel Jerry Southwood and "Little" Ed Coleman with 11 and 10 points respectively.

It was in the fourth and final quarter that the hardwood five really poured it on. With 6:49 remaining Dannheiser hit from under and Grieger drilled two free throw attempts to trim the gap to 49-47. Denton came back with two free throws and Coleman swished a cool 20 footer that tied the score 61 all. Denton then followed up with a tip-in. Dannheiser cashed in on a three point play to run up Bosse's lead to 56-51. From there on in it was a cat and mouse game with the Bulldogs coming out victorious.

Dannheiser, Denton On All-Sectional Team

CHUCK DANNHEISER and Larry Denton added more icing to the Bulldog cake, by becoming members of the Sunday Courier And Press All-Sectional Team.

Dannheiser and Denton combined their efforts on the boards to rebound all three of the Bulldogs' victims in sectional competition. Both earned championship in three years.

Effectively utilizing their height, Dannheiser stands 6-3. Denton towers at 6-5, they also figured heavily in the scoring column. Denton tallied 21 points against Reitz in the Bulldog opener, and hit for 18 against Rex Mundi. He also added 13 big points in the final game against Central. Dannheiser tossed in 12 points against Reitz, 6 points in the Rex Mundi tilt and added 8 points in the championship game with Central Saturday night. Both boys hauled in 13 rebounds apiece against the Bears in the title bout, as the Bulldogs out-rebounded them 46-32. The victory avenged a mid-season loss to the Bears, and placed Bosse in the Regional tournament tomorrow at the stadium.

Marion Brackett and Tom Tressett represent runner-up Central on the All-Sectional team. Mark Clark, Reitz cager, was also named to the mythical squad.

Even after Rex Mundi's two top men, Bob Griese and Bernie Schneider, fouled out, the Bulldogs continued to press. However, the Monarchs substitutes took over when the regulars left off. With one minute left they cut the margin to 64-61 on a clever basket by freshman Albert Heard. But Grieger, determined to stay in the tournament, whipped under for a layup and added two free throws to ice it for the 'Dogs.

'Dogs Shoot Down Bears In Last Minute 55-53

POWERFUL, BATTLING Bulldogs stymied the strong-shooting Central Bears with a tenacious zone defense and superior board-play to win their second sectional title in the last three years, 55-53, last Saturday night at thundering Roberts Stadium.

With one of the most hectic finishes in the history of Hoosier Hysteria, the Bulldogs came out victorious by hitting seven of thirteen from the field and adding eight free tosses. The game was extremely close throughout, with quarter scores of 13-12, 23-22, 33-33 and the final 55-53.

Bulldogs, Knights Clash Tomorrow In Regional Play

HAUBSTADT, TELL CITY, Castle and the Bulldogs will clash in the Evansville Regionals to be played at Roberts Municipal Stadium tomorrow afternoon and evening.

In the 12:30 game of the tournament, Haubstadt, winner of the Princeton Sectionals, takes on Tell City, winner of the Tell City Sectionals. The second game features Bosse against Castle, winner of the Booneville Sectionals, beginning at 1:45 P.M. Winners of the first and second games clash in the championship game scheduled to begin at 8:15 P.M. that evening.

Haubstadt won over Ft. Branch, 14-13, in a triple overtime, while Tell City defeated Camanito, 55-47. Bosse stormed over Central, 55-53, and Castle edged Booneville, 62-61.

Senior center Larry Denton paced the Bulldogs with thirteen and junior forward Gary Grieger added eleven, before fouling out. Backboard bull Marion Brackett took game scoring honors with nineteen for the hapless Bears.

Wildly cheering patriots to the screech and gray were thrilled as each member of the squad, along with Arvel Kilpatrick, Al Buck, David Duesley and Mrs. Herman Keller traditionally snipped the nets. The Bulldogs increased its season record to 15-5 going into next week's tough regional play.

GRIEGER, HITTING four of six field goal attempts and seven of eight charity tosses, led the Bulldogs with fifteen points. Denton, also playing a fine game, added eighteen. Rex Mundi was led by talented Griese with eighteen, followed by Tom Niemeyer with sixteen and Larry Ramsey with twelve.

Both teams hit a fairly even basis. Rex Mundi hit twenty-two for fifty-six for a .394 percentage, while the Bulldogs made twenty-three of sixty-four, for a .359 clip. Rex Mundi's fine showing should prove to entice that brighter days are ahead for the young Monarchs. They'll have everybody back next season. Sophomores Griese and Niemeyer will be back for two more years.

TAKING CHARGE midway through the last quarter, the Bulldogs built up a six point lead at 54-48 with 1:12 remaining. However, the never-say-die Bears charged with a press and narrowed the gap to 56-52 when senior guard Ken Brindy hit two free throws with just eleven seconds remaining. Bosse's senior guard Ed Brown double-dribbled attempting to penetrate the desperate Bears with three seconds to go. Central called time to prepare for the last-second desperation shot, but lady-luck caught up with them for it was their sixth time out, constituting a technical foul. While sophomore sensation Jerry Southwood missed, the Dogs received the ball out of bounds. In the hall went to Chuck Dannheiser and the solo-scramble was awarded to Bosse.

Central Wins 67-61 Over North Nektars In Sectional Upset

IN ONE OF the most crucial of Evansville's sectional bouts, the Central Bears upset favored cross-town rival North in a 67-61 decision Wednesday night at the stadium.

Tradition always has the Central team in peak form at tournament time, and their polished effort against the Huskies seemed to be no exception. A long jump shot by senior center Marion Brackett broke the 24-24 tie in the second quarter and put the Bears ahead to stay. Central led at the quarter 17-15, at the half 31-27, and they entered the final round with a 51-43 advantage.

Even the potent Schillase-Volkman punch was unable to halt the balanced attack, as the Bears avenged a late season seven-point defeat against the city co-champs and sectional favorites.
