

Kushner, Robertson Take Honors

Hoosier Talent Search Picks Science Majors

SIDNEY KUSHNER and Charles Robertson will attend the fourteenth annual Indiana Science Talent Search in Indianapolis, March 17 and 18, according to Woodrow Pemberton, head of the Science Department.

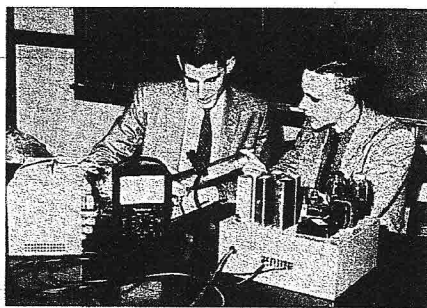

Sidney and Charles were selected as finalists from thirty or forty students in Indiana. Mr. Pemberton and J. Maxwell Davis, biology teacher, will accompany them to Indianapolis. Meals and hotel accommodations will be provided, but the participants will have to furnish their own transportation.

"DURING THE ASSEMBLY, Charles and Sidney will exhibit materials related to their scientific investigations. Charles' project is called 'The Possibilities of Electroluminescence in the Transmission of Color-Modulated Light Signals.' Sidney's project is entitled 'The Generation of Alternating Current from an Electrochemical Cell.' Each student will be interviewed by the Science Talent Search Committee. State winners and honorable mentions selected from the finalists will be announced at the Honors Luncheon on March 18. The Science Talent Search Assembly has been approved by the Activities Committee of the Indiana Association of Secondary School Principals.

Both Charles and Sidney received honorable mention in the Twentieth Annual Westinghouse Talent Search. Honorable mentions were given to the top ten per cent taking part in the contest. In this contest each participant had to submit a project and an essay of 1000 words. They also had to take an aptitude test, covering physics, chemistry and biology. The purpose of the Westinghouse Talent Search was for Scholarship awards.

Sidney, senior advisee of Richard Hyatt, has won the Industrial Chemical Award, the Second Honor Rating and the First Alternate Navy Cruise Award in the Tri-State Science Fair. He took fourth place in the Tri-State Chemistry Achievement Contest and is a member of the Heart Fund Research Team. Last summer, Sidney attended a science institute at Indiana University. This year he is president of the Science Club, a member of National Honor Society and the president of his church youth group. He was recently chosen to be a Commencement speaker.

Charles, a senior and an advisee of Charles Mathies, has won the Industrial Physics Award and the Second Honor Rating, both in the Tri-State Science Fair. He, too, is in National Honor Society. Last summer he attended Michigan University for a science institute.

Sidney Kushner and Charles Robertson, finalists in the Indiana Science Talent Search, are shown looking over their projects which they will exhibit in the finals at Indianapolis on March 17 and 18.

Mayes Releases Details Of Kiwanis Conferences

KIWANIS VOCATIONAL guidance conferences for sophomores and juniors will be Wednesdays, March 15 and 22 during the ECA period, according to Ralph Mayes, counselor.

Seniors will not attend the conferences, but will report to the auditorium at that time for a special assembly. At the March 15 assembly, Jack McDonald, who is in charge of sales for the Shell Oil Co. in this area, will speak. Roger Zion will be the speaker at the March 22 meeting. Mr. Zion is in charge of sales training for Mead Johnson.

Foundation Offers Summer Training For Top Students

TO ACCELERATE scholarly development, the National Science Foundation, through its summer science training program for secondary school students, is making educational experiences in science and mathematics available to students of high ability, according to Woodrow Pemberton, head of the science department.

Almost 7,000 superior high school students have the opportunity to obtain tuition-free science training during the summer of 1961.

'School Spirit' Schedules Spelling Bee For Monday

HOMEROOM REPRESENTATIVES will be competing for awards in the annual SCHOOL SPIRIT Spelling Bee, March 13 during ECA period, according to Sandy Barnett, who is in charge of the contest.

Judges will be Mrs. Lillian Thompson and Edmund Sullivan, English instructors. Miss Mary Anna Rose will act as time keeper and Waldon Crabtree will be announcer.

Carol Bloy, Betsy Owen, Charlene Tolbert, Julie Bicking, Jack Mayfield, Paul Heller, Rex Legler and Warren Henry will represent their homerooms. Other students chosen from individual homeroom eliminations are Mary Hamilton, Judy Kay Smith, John Stevens, Sidney Kushner, Jo Ann Hachenberger, Carol Vaughn and Betsy Bradley. Other contestants are Karen Lipold, Bob Royster, Jerry Vaughan, Lee Ortmyer, Eric Sullivan, Greg Anderson, Barbara Graham and John Wilson. Co-relating the list are Lowell Urrey, Chester Fenwick, Peggy Litty, Jo Carroll Sanderson, Susan Meyers, Darby Dees, Chester Fenwick, Ed Lieberman, Pete Morrison and Dorothy Goffinet.

Winners will be presented their prizes by David Dudley, principal. The first place award will be a gold-plated medal and a case of cokes for the winner's homeroom. The second and third place awards will be a silver-plated medal and a bronze-plated medal, respectively.

Verb Forms Cause Classroom Chaos

IN MRS. ELAINE Pitman's third period written expression class, recently, the topic of discussion turned to the principal parts of verbs.

After discussing several verbs and their forms, discussion centered around the verb "to tell." Mrs. Judy Lowder, substitute teacher for Mrs. Pitman, asked for volunteers to make up sentences using the different tenses of this verb.

Bob Hetzel, junior advisee of Mrs. Martha Groene, was asked to use "to tell" in the past tense. After considering the request Bob carefully stated, "For whom the bell toll?"

Optimists Announce Oratorical Contest

"OPTIMISM: INGREDIENT for True Leadership" is the topic for the annual Optimist Club's Oratorical Contest, April 10 through April 14, according to Ray Begarly.

Winners from Bosse, who will participate in the club contest will compete on April 3. The contest is open to boys who will not reach their sixteenth birthdays by Dec. 31, 1961. Not less than four minutes nor more than five is the time limit for the speeches. The contestants will use microphones for their orations.

WINNERS FROM THE various high schools will compete in an area contest. The area winner will then go to the zone contest and from there to the state contest at Indianapolis. The state winner will then travel to the international competition to try for a $1,000 scholarship. Those interested in participating in the Oratorical Contest should contact Mr. Begarly as soon as possible.

Optimist International is about thirty-eight years old and is now the fourth largest service organization in the world. The Downtown Evansville Club is one of the oldest and largest divisions of the national system. It was chartered in May, 1921, and has a membership of 162 people.

For many years the downtown unit was the only Optimist Club in this area. During the past four years, however, the Downtown Club has been instrumental in establishing the West Side, Posey County, Evansville Breakfast and the East Side Evansville Clubs. The main purpose of this service organization is expressed in its motto: "The Friend of the Boy."

Bosse To Host Area Students For Exams

INDIANA ACHIEVEMENT Test competition will begin on March 25 at Bosse High School, according to Edmund Sullivan, regional chairman should contact Mr. Begarly as soon as possible.

Students from the Evansville high schools, as well as those from Princeton, Petersburg, Newburgh, and other surrounding areas, will journey to Bosse to take the first round in the state-wide testing program. Pupils from all over the state who receive the highest scores on the regional tests will then be invited to the state finals at Bloomington on April 29.

FOUR BOSSE STUDENTS will compete in each of three language divisions. Pupils will be represented in the second year Spanish tests, the third year Spanish tests and the second year Latin examinations. Roy Long, assistant to Mr. Sullivan, has also announced the divisions of the mathematics competition. Four students will enter the first year algebra contest and four pupils will compete in the geometry examinations.

Also to be entered in the mathematics divisions will be students in Mathematics Comprehension "A," Comprehension "B" and Comprehension "C." The "A" group is made up of students who have completed only second year algebra. The "B" group consists of pupils who have studied through Advanced Mathematics II. The Comprehensive "C" group is composed of those students who have completed Advanced Math III.

Edmonson, Judd Head Committee For New Handbook

MIKE JUDD, advisee of Mrs. Doris Griffin, and Barbara Edmonson, advisee of Mrs. D'Alis Calmes, are co-chairmen of the Student Handbook project, according to Mrs. Lillian Thompson, sponsor of the committee.

Members of the committee are Barbara Hartley, Leland Moon, Mary Hamilton, Jim Janson, Martha Bennett and Deanna Barton. David Reitz, Vicki Ryan, Darby Dees and George Willson are also on the committee. These people all have a special duty to do in the revision of the old handbook.

This handbook is to be finished for summer printing, thus making possible its use next year for the new freshmen. It tells about the school in general, the rules and schedules for later years in high school. The handbook also tells the freshmen about the clubs available and the awards and scholarships possible in high school.

Armed Forces Offer Seminar At College

EVANSVILLE COLLEGE and the local Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the Security Seminar being held at Evansville College this week and last week.

This seminar is presented by the national military personnel under the direction of Col. Ernest F. Williams. The seminar, which began last Monday, is in discussion of the international security question. The first week was primarily devoted to internal security.

All the city high schools and those in the surrounding area were invited to attend the seminar. Each school has a choice of any three days in which to attend the lectures. Both Henry Kelly's International Relations class and Don Williams' American Problems class have taken field trips to the seminar.

Six instructors are guest speakers at the meetings. They are Col. William Boaz, Capt. John Rogers, Capt. C. H. Farnelle, Col. C. E. Davis and Col. Williams. The seminar will be climaxed by a farewell dinner at the McCurdy Hotel. Guest speaker Lt. Gen. George W. Mundy, commandant of the Industrial College at Washington. Following this event will be a summation of the two weeks' work, to be given by Col. Williams. The Evansville Seminar is said to be one of the most successful National Security Seminars ever conducted.

Highlights After Deadline

APPLICATION FORMS for the annual Auto Rodeo may now be obtained. Interested students should see Jack Lewis, driving instructor.

THIS YEAR'S BASKETBALL BANQUET will be next Tuesday in the school cafeteria at 6:30 P.M.

JERRY BROWN and JETTY INGLIS were omitted from the list of entrants in the Spelling Bee.

TRYOUTS FOR THE CHORAL DEPARTMENT'S production LPL ABNER will be March 13, next Monday.

Musicians To Campaign

LOOKING FORWARD to a new concert season, the Musicians' Club of Evansville, Inc. will sponsor a drive to obtain new members, beginning Monday, March 13 and ending Saturday, March 18.

Headquarters for the drive will be at Harding and Miller Music Company, 518-20 Main Street. Students interested in obtaining membership for the concert series may call Mrs. B. T. Faith, membership chairman.

FOR THIS YEAR'S concert series, five artists have accepted invitations to appear. Among the performers are Jaime Laredo, Bolivian violinist; William Steinberg, conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and George London, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Claudio Arrau, pianist and Ruth Page's Chicago Opera Ballet will also appear in the 1961-62 concert series.

In addition to providing musical entertainment by the world's greatest artists, the Musicians' Club also offers a scholarship and education program. The Emily Orr Clifford Award, providing five weeks summer camp experience at Chataqua, New York, is presented annually to a junior or senior high school student in honor of the first president of the Musicians' Club. Other awards offered by the Club are a $50 cash award presented annually to a high school freshman or sophomore and a $150 award offered to a junior in the Evansville College Music School to apply on tuitions for the senior year.

Educational benefits offered by the Musicians' Club include the Tuesday Morning Musicale, which takes place on the Tuesday preceding each concert of the series. A preview interpretation is done by a local person, informed in the artist's field, on the substance of the concert program.

Shifting Sands by Sandy Brock

ON A CLEAR DAY, when one gazes upon a river, he can clearly see the waves created by the current as it flows downstream. In windy March weather, it is also possible to see the turbulence caused by the wind upon the water. The wind often blows in an upstream direction at a rate considerably in excess of the downstream flow of water. Because the waves created by the wind move upstream faster than the current carries them downstream it creates the illusion that the river is flowing uphill. Of course, in reality, one is aware that this is only an optical deception and that the mighty torrent is actually moving in the same direction that it has moved for centuries.

Editor

If applied to our lives, we realize that it is possible for us to be deceived by surface turbulence. At times, we deceive ourselves by the commotion we "kick up" on the surface or in shallow places. It may seem to us that we are moving at a commendable speed in the desired direction, when the deep and powerful currents may actually be carrying us in quite another direction. We must always be on guard for those things that would connive and scheme to turn us away from our actual purpose and send us far off our chartered course.

Still, there is another side to this theory of surface turbulence. We may judge the movement of the water below the surface by what is seen on the surface. This, of course, is erroneous. Setting one person up as a standard for an entire group cannot be validated. We cannot and should not judge an entire group by the actions of a few. Surface impressions are not representative of the mass.

Our cheerleading squad is to be commended for the fine job that it has done throughout the 1960-1961 sports season. A great deal of time and effort is spent in practice and rehearsal sessions to make our section outstanding at diverse sports activities. It has often been said that we have one of the loudest and best cheering sections in town and with such fine leadership, it is easy to see why we have earned such a well-deserved title.

Doctors, Friends Contribute Books To Honor Hoover

SEVERAL GROUPS of persons have donated books to the library in memory of the late Guy Hoover, who was a junior at Bosse.

Dr. and Mrs. Neil M. Palm and family and Dr. and Mrs. George C. Roth and family, of St. Paul, Minnesota, contributed "Lincoln's Youth: Indiana Years Seven to Twenty-One 1816-1830" by Louis A. Warren. Seven of Guy's classmates purchased "The Tragic Years, 1860-1865," a documentary history of the American Civil War by Paul M. Angle and Earl Schenck Miers.

Y-Teen Girls Raise Money At Bake Sale

IN ORDER TO raise money for the downtown and local organizations, the Junior Y-Teens sponsored a bake sale Monday afternoon, according to Mrs. Marcia Gaunt, club sponsor.

In charge of the bake sale was Karen O'Neil, treasurer. The group made the cookies, cupcakes and candies themselves. They were sold in Room 15 and in the front hall.

Open only to freshmen, Mrs. Gaunt stated, "The Junior Y-Teens is a fine opportunity to develop leadership in girls. Since it is the only organization for freshmen girls, it serves as a good background for the clubs they may enter in their remaining high school years." Mrs. Gaunt also reported that the club has various other projects and parties planned for this semester.

Recently, Diane Wastjer, the club's president, attended a state convention of the Y-Teens at Greencastle, Indiana. There Diane learned many programming ideas and about various possible projects.

Snethen Announces General Theme Of Art Contest

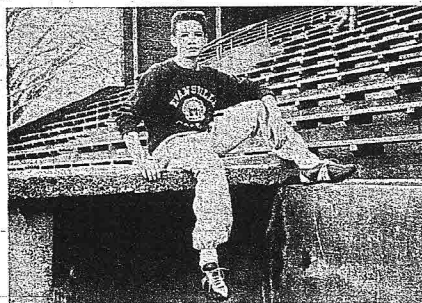

"Beverage Alcohol or Tobacco with their Related Problems in Areas of the Home, Social Welfare, Health, Crime, Safety and Juvenile Delinquency," is the general theme of the annual Poster Contest, sponsored by the Women's Christian Union, according to Merrill Snethen, art director.

Three groups are open to the contestants, the first group for fourth through sixth graders; the second for seventh through ninth graders and the third for tenth through twelfth graders. Awards will be given to the three winners of each group. The prizes for Group I are $10.00, $7.50 and $5.00; for Group II, $12.50, $10.00 and $7.50 and for Group III, $15.00, $12.50 and $10.00.

Local and county contests should be completed on or before April 5, 1961. The entrants will be judged on five points, scientific accuracy, originality, use for publicity, instant appeal and unique approach. Judging will be done by an art teacher, a minister and a representative of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the sponsor of the contest.

Vic's Pics by Vicki Jaquess

TIM BRAGASSA, freshman advisee of Mrs. Mary Beth Burns, takes a "breather" during track practice.

This popular freshman has not only participated in track, but was also on the freshman football squad. He played cub football at his former grade school, Harper. He was also a member of the basketball, baseball and track teams.

Besides participating in sport activities, Tim was in the school choir, the eighth-grade play and served as vice-president of the science club. He was also a member of the May Day Court.

TIM FINDS high school "much different from grade school, but a lot of fun." He says there are "more people to know." Being recently elected as vice-president of the freshman class, it can be assumed that Tim has taken his own advice and made an effort to meet many of his new classmates.

"My favorite subjects are history, English and Spanish," Tim states. He goes on to say that he enjoys his other subjects too. Being quite athletic, Tim lists sports as his main hobby. He especially enjoys swimming and golfing. Cars are also one of Tim's outside interests.

When asked how he spent his summer preceding high school, Tim says that he took a trip to California and to Washington, D. C. While visiting these two places, he stayed with his grandfather, who is a congressman from California.

Tim's future plans include attending college — either Wisconsin University or Mississippi Southern. In college, he hopes to study law.

GAA Announces Volleyball Champs, Ping Pong Tourney

CO-EDUCATIONAL volleyball players, who advanced to the final round of competition, played in the championship game in the girls' gym on Monday, March 6, after school, according to Mrs. Marilyn King, GAA sponsor.

Eddie Letsinger, Bob Kerney and Vernon Mann each had teams which advanced to the final round of tournament play. These teams have played each Monday for the past several weeks to attain their championship status.

Due to the tremendous response to the co-educational volleyball program, the GAA officers announced their plans for a ping-pong tournament, which will begin in a few weeks. Co-ed ping pong tournaments will be played three times a week instead of one game per week, as in volleyball, because of the number who have expressed an active interest in the new co-educational program. Those interested in the new program should sign up in the old gym office. GAA officers have also been making plans for a banquet, which will be held sometime in the spring.

College Offers Many Schools Of Education

TO MEET THE educational needs of a rapidly expanding country is the main ideal of Northwestern University, according to Ralph Mayes, counselor.

Several young Chicagoans were granted a charter establishing "the North Western University" on Jan. 28, 1851. It was their dream to establish a "university of the highest order of excellence" to meet the needs of the territory at that time.

They decided to set up their university twelve miles north of Chicago. With their meager funds they bought 380 acres of land, now the campus and the central part of the city of Evanston. Here they erected a modest frame building, and in Nov., 1855, opened their "university." It consisted of ten young men and two professors.

TODAY, NORTHWESTERN is an institution of world-wide influence. Its thirteen schools are located on two campuses, with land and buildings valued at $50,000,000. The full-time enrollment of the University is about 9,100 students; of this number approximately 7,200 are enrolled on the Evanston campus. The faculty consists of approximately 1,100 members. Evanston's campus includes the following schools: the College of Liberal Arts, the Graduate School, the Schools of Music, Speech, Education, Journalism, Business, the Technological Institute and the Summer Session.

About 100 buildings house the classrooms and residences of the schools. There are thirteen University residence halls, many of which overlook Lake Michigan. There are also sixteen sorority houses and twenty-one fraternity houses at the University.

Students wishing to obtain a scholarship should write to the school at Northwestern in which they are going to enter, and apply. Scholarships are generally awarded only to those students showing superior scholastic ability and a definite financial need. More information concerning Northwestern may be obtained by writing to the Director of Admissions, Northwestern University, 1740 Orrington Avenue, Evanston, Illinois.

MEMBERS OF STUDENT Council discussed the ideas of a city-wide student council at their last meeting on March 2, according to Jim Wiseman, president of the council.

Representatives from each of the high school student councils met at the Community Center on Feb. 20. The president of Reiter's Student Council presided over the meeting. Tom Niedermeyer, senior represented Bosse.

Absorbing Novel Reveals Journey To Palestine

INCLUDED IN the group of books recently purchased by the library is "The Inspector," a story of two people who try to restore their lives after the horrors of World War II in Germany, according to Miss Suzette McGill, school librarian.

Holland, in the Spring of 1946, is the setting of this story. The country has been ravaged and flooded and the towns are swarming with people. Soldiers, resistance members, black marketeers and smugglers add to the confusion. Among them move a few Jews, recently out of cellars, attics and camps, haunted by unimaginable memories of war punishments.

OUT OF this teeming crowd, in this dramatic moment of history, emerge the two leading characters, Peter Jongman, a middle-aged Dutch Inspector of the Criminal Investigation Division and Anna Held, a young Jewish girl who had been in a concentration camp and whose parents and family had been murdered. Almost before they realize why, they are joined together in a strange pursuit, a weird and fascinating journey.

The inspector first meets her as a refugee in the police station. He thinks of all the calls he had let go unheeded during the war; the German freighters blown up, the cranes on the waterfront sabotaged by others, the launches of soldiers tricked into collision, and all he had done was to turn his back.

Against the advice of his wife, he decides to help Anna. His one goal in life is to smuggle her to her cherished destination of Palestine. This goal leads them from the ruins of London, along the canals of Holland and the rivers of France, to the cashab of Tangier.

This book was written by Jan de Hartog. In the United States, his name has become a familiar one through the success of his five previously published books, "The Lost Sea," "The Distant Shore," "The Little Ark," "A Sailor's Life," and "The Spiral Road."

Ventures, Checkers To Appear Tonight In Rock, Roll Show

APPEARING AT the Coliseum are Bobby Vee, the Ventures and the Checkers for a Rock 'N Roll show Friday, March 10 from 8 P.M. until 12 midnight.

ANOTHER STAR attraction appearing at the Coliseum is an instrumental group called the "Ventures." The group features four guitars and a drum. Currently on the hit parade are their renditions of "Walk, Don't Run" and "Pardis."

Completing the show is a group entitled the "Checkers." They are a prominent background troupe that plays the background music for Bobby Vee.

WHILE TELL CITY squelched the Bulldog attack, two of the Bulldogs stood out. Forward Gary Grieger and center Larry Denton were named to the All-Regional team. Tom Kron and Dave Leuking, Tell City's foulless guards, and Castle's Jim Barclay completed the team.

TELL CITY'S victory was not the only upset in the state. Two teams-to-watch were eliminated as Indianapolis Manual rolled over the Attucks and Columbus surprised Madison. Defending state champions, East Chicago Washington dropped out in the afternoon game of the regionals. With the elimination of these three teams, Kokomo has become the general favorite.

STILL UNBEATEN Ohio State clinched the Big Ten basketball championship last Saturday as they rolled over Michigan State. This victory earned the Buckeyes an invitation to the N.C.A.A. Behind Walt Bellamy's 22 points, Indiana came out of its slump to stun Iowa 78-69. While setting the new rebound record at 28, Bellamy led the Hoosiers over Wisconsin for the second time this season. He added 27 points to complete the evening. This victory assured Indiana of a first division finish. Iowa, ranked sixth in the nation, fell later to Michigan State. This defeat knocked Iowa into a tie with Purdue for second place in the Big Ten. John Tidwell set a school record at 43 points-but Michigan still dropped the game to Minnesota.

Raphael Tops Sports Experts In Pro Contest

GERALD RAPHAEL, freshman advice of Edmund Sullivan, slipped past "The Pros", as well as other entrants, to capture top honors in the "Beat The Pros" contest for the week of Feb. 20.

Picking all the winners correctly, Gerald missed the score of the Bosse-Central game, the final bout of the Sectionals, by 14 points. His prediction was 65-57, while the actual score of the game was 55-53. Gerald will receive two free tickets to the Grand Theater. Wally Heubner, junior of homeroom 126, topped second place in the weekly contest. Wally selected three of the four winners correctly and was off the score of the Bosse-Central game by 17 points picking Bosse over Central 64-61.

Region Champs Set To Collide In Semi-State

FOUR TEAMS, including Bloomfield, Tell City, Jasper and Corydon, will meet at the Stadium Saturday to battle it out for semi-state honors and a trip to Indianapolis for the state finals.

These four teams became members of Indiana basketball's "sweet sixteen" by knocking off two opponents each in regional competition last Saturday. Only one of the four will emerge victorious and become one of the four teams that will meet in Indianapolis one week from tomorrow to compete for the state championship.

Bloomfield defeated Ellettsville, 69-50 and Brazil 51-48 to advance into the semi-state, while Tell City eliminated Haubstadt and Bosse by scores of 47-37 and 56-53, respectively. Jasper removed Logansport and Monroe City from competition with scores of 50-46 and 76-75, respectively. Corydon topped Seymour, 69-56, and Silver Creek, 75-62.

Cagers Storm Castle; Blow Out Knights

WITH THEIR height advantage wearing down Castle's spirited Knights, the mighty Bulldogs surged to 68-54 win in the afternoon game of the regionals, Saturday at Roberts Stadium.

Unable to penetrate Castle's tight defense for more than a half, the Bulldogs were forced to shoot from the outside. But the game was won on the boards where the Kellersmen commanded 58-44.

It was a touch-and-go game for two periods, with the first quarter ending all even 12-12. Jim Wiesman put the Bulldogs ahead for keeps on a jump shot early in the second quarter. But Castle kept in the thick of the deal by matching Gary Grieger and sophomore Jerry Southwood, basket for basket. Bosse carried a thin 33-30 lead into the dressing room at half time.

IN THE HECTIC third quarter, two baskets by guard Ed Coleman and a free throw by Grieger shot Bosse into a 39-32 lead with 5:48 to go. But the Knights stormed back on two baskets by Jim Barclay to narrow the margin to 39-36. Grieger responded to the call with a bucket and a charity toss to put the Bulldogs ahead 42-36. Castle again came back on fielders by Gerald Wilkinson and Fred Allen to narrow the gap to two points with less than four minutes left in the quarter.

After a time out, Dannheiser made a three point play, Southwood and Grieger hit from the field and Coleman and Grieger both added a pair of free throws to tumble Castle's hopes for an upset. Bosse was sizzling at the end of three quarters 54-42.

As the final period opened, Grieger swished in two more to soar the Kellersmen into a 58-44 lead. From that point on, Castle was no longer alive as reserves from both teams finished out the game.

Grieger, playing one of his better games, led the Bulldogs with nineteen. Denton followed with fourteen points, including a masterful twenty-seven rebound. Dannheiser added eleven and Coleman ten. Barclay of Castle was high for the game with twenty-two.
